Professional Secrets - Thermometer

+++++

Swedish largest tabloid AFTONBLADET gets it: This is not your ordinary kitchen thermometer for checking on the occasional sunday roast. This is a tool for those who are passionate about food and want to cook – and measure and monitor temperature – like a pro. And they say:

"Fast as lightning and handsome like a black panther."
– Aftonbladet PLUS

Inspired by professionals
The ultimate kitchen thermometer was created in close collaboration with professional chefs and outstanding designers. The extraordinary design – including the unique positioning of the display and the protective sheath – is protected within the EU and USA.

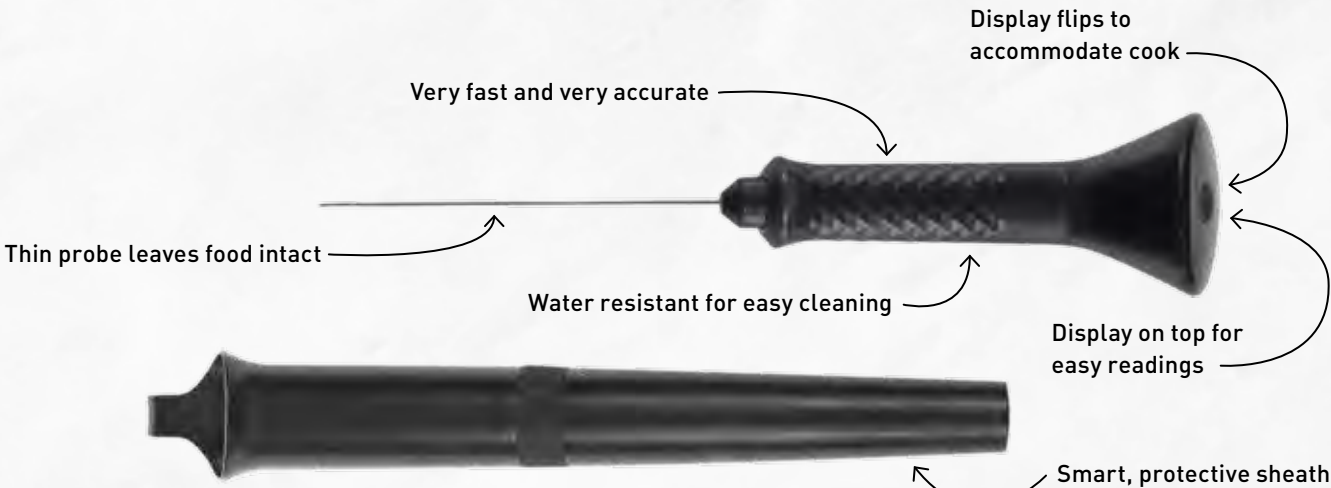

"New kitchen thermometer deserves an 'A'."
See Dining out – Eating in's complete piece on the ultimate thermometer here.

"That thermometer is brilliant."
Jacob Richler, canadas100bestrestaurants.com

"I love how easy it is to use and really loved the large decimal printout. And it registered the temperature so fast! Wow, amazing tool. Every chef needs this device."
Johnnie De La Garza, Flicks and Food

MISE EN PLACE BOWLS

Before cooking, a professional chef always prepares a mise en place, kitchen French for “everything in its place”. This basic measure brings tidiness and effectivity to new level. Silicone lids make our bowls suitable for preparation as well as storage.

Resistant to heat, cold, and hard work

Air-tight lids for hygiene and odor-free storage

For food preparation and storage

Sizes customized for household fridges and needs

CUTTING BOARD

The cutting board lives in symbiosis with the chef's knife. Ours has been improved with an enlarged basin to put – once and for all – an end to irritating “floods”. Sustainable beech provides just the right hardness for hours of knife work.

Beech – just the right softness/hardness

Beech – prime material for food

Practical handles

Enlarged basin stops meat juice and other fluids from overflowing

LARGE CHEF’S KNIFE

For better balance and control, a professional chef grips a knife far up on the handle so that the index finger rests on the back of the blade. We noted this. Our unique handle design spares index fingers during long working hours.

Material:	Specifications	Art no.
Blade – Sandvik SanEdge™ Steel, hardness 56-58 HRC Handle – Fiberglass Sheath – Canvas	Blade length – 191 mm Protective canvas sheath included	1013

SMALL CHEF’S KNIFE

For smaller jobs and/or smaller hands. With our unique handle – designed for “the chef’s grip” – that spares index fingers during long working hours.

Material:	Specifications	Art no.
Blade – Sandvik SanEdge™ Steel, hardness 56-58 HRC Handle – Fiberglass Sheath – Canvas	Blade length – 148 mm Protective canvas sheath included	1017

PARING KNIFE

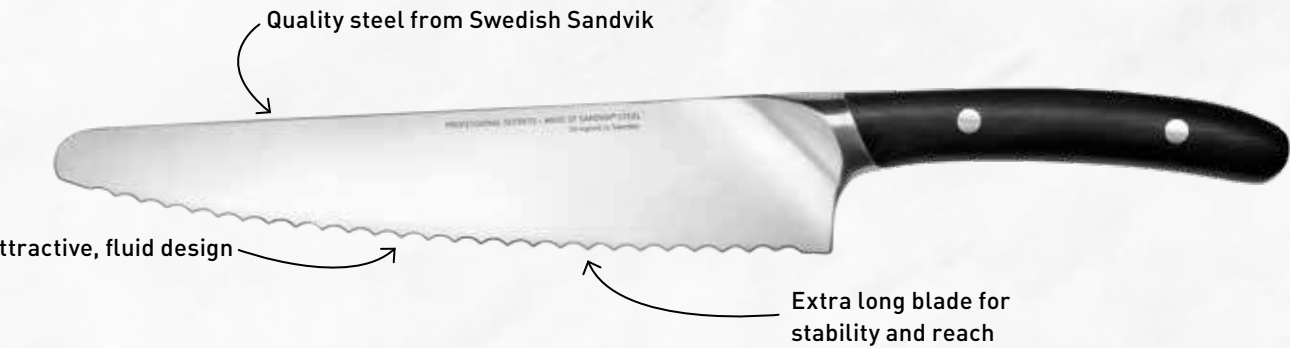

Small in size, but very useful. Created for a carving motion rather than chopping, but with the same attractive design as our bigger knives. Rests perfectly in the palm of your hand.

Material:	Specifications	Art no.
Blade – Sandvik SanEdge™ Steel, hardness 56-58 HRC Handle – Fiberglass Sheath – Canvas	Blade length – 100 mm Protective canvas sheath included	1031

HEAVY DUTY BREAD KNIFE

The bread knife is not personal, but it still has to perform flawlessly in the hands of a chef. Generous dimensions, weightiness, and a long, saw-toothed blade makes work easier. Perfect for sizeable loaves, for example levain bread.

Material:	Specifications	Art no.
Blade – Sandvik SanEdge™ Steel, hardness 56-58 HRC Handle – Fiberglass Sheath – Canvas	Blade length – 234 mm Protective canvas sheath included	1018

TRIED AND TESTED ON THE SALES FLOOR

To support retail sales we have developed displays that present our products in a manner designed to capture the attention and interest of the target customer segment.

Unique sell-out concept

The displays effectively communicate our core values, yet take up very little floor space. Other POS materials, such as posters, are available to further support the store displays.

- Unique, branded display
- Stunning kitchen tool design
- Visually attractive packaging
- Storytelling “straight from the pros”

Multi-channel advertising

The launch can be supported by exclusive artworks, point of sales material, our community, close partnership with local chefs, blogs, PR, etc. We have produced inspiring product films and images to support and boost sales.
